

DEMONSTRATION AGAINST “PLAN NORD”

during the Salon des ressources naturelles at the Palais des congrès

Innu people block Highway 138 in defense of their land against the ecocidal projects of Hydro-Québec, March 2012.

BECAUSE IN DESTROYING THE WILD,
WE ALSO DESTROY OURSELVES.

Whether the money goes into the coffers of the Québécois or Canadian state, or to transnational corporations, the development of the north threatens all of us. We want to interrupt the colonizing and civilizing mission that has existed since the arrival of the first European colonizers, and which has accelerated ever since.

during the Salon des ressources naturelles at the Palais des congrès

The crowd fights the police outside the first Salon Plan Nord, April 2012.

BECAUSE IN DESTROYING THE WILD,
WE ALSO DESTROY OURSELVES.

While liberal environmentalists repeat their narratives of alternative development, it's clear that the capitalist economy releases carbon into the atmosphere and destroys wild land simply as a side effect of its normal functioning. Therefore, it is necessary that defenders of the wild surpass the limits of capitalist law that are imposed on us.

Land defense at Notre-Dame-des-Landes, France, to prevent the construction of an airport.

BECAUSE IN DESTROYING THE WILD,
WE ALSO DESTROY OURSELVES.

Capitalism's destruction of the biosphere is a threat to our survival; it is even more so for the people living at the peripheries of empire. But that is not the only reason for us to fight it. We are struggling not only for our interests, but for the world we desire — and we want to live in a world where we can breathe the air, drink the water, and see the stars.
